The Born Free Ministry consists of caring for infants born to women in prison. We currently serve the Kentucky Correctional Institute for Women located in Pewee Valley, Kentucky. The babies, born in Louisville area hospitals, normally arrive to our Angel House at two or three days old. Providing around the clock love and care, while attempting to provide the normal joys of childhood as we watch over these little angels. We also take them to visit their mothers on a weekly basis. These children are not available for adoption due to the nature of the Ministry's mission to keep children and families together. The children are returned to their mothers once released from prison.
