The "Finally Home" program was established to help families with children and single individuals obtain permanent housing and become self-supporting. Local emergency shelters refer eligible families and individuals to the program, where a licensed professional social worker helps them find apartments and basic furnishings. Finally Home provides weekly case management with professional social workers including weekly goal setting for saving money and securing employment, among others. Client accountability is emphasized. Social skills groups teach budgeting, nutrition, child care and self-esteem building.

Love INC (aka Love In the Name of Christ) mobilizes church volunteers to help people in need through acts of service and donated product. Love INC is not an emergency service and does not give out money. The call center screens requests for legitimacy and gives financial referrals to agencies, or involves volunteers from 25 partner churches in resourcing the needs within the ministry's scope. Volunteers from a Love INC partner church provide a wide variety of services (rides, yard work, moving, home repairs etc.) using their talents to help those less fortunate who may otherwise fall through the cracks. Products (such as diapers, clothing, coats, household goods and supplies) are available through a voucher system.
Love INC Boise provides a 6-month, accountable program called Abundant Living which is designed to help people find their way out of financial
