The Just Advice Project hosts two three-hour sessions each week while classes are in session. Customers are advised to call to confirm sessions are currently being offered.

Sessions are held on Tuesdays at the University of Maryland, School Community Engagement Center on the 800 block of West Baltimore Street and in the second floor library at the Maryland District Court at the corner of Fayette and Gay Streets in Baltimore City. The advice is free.

During this meeting, customers can gain a better understanding of the legal issues they face and receive advice on how to proceed in order to resolve those issues.

The program accepts walk-ins; however, scheduling an appointment is recommended by calling 410-929-4809 or by sending an e-mail to JustAdvice@law.umaryland.edu

We can also help with expungement of court records.

Just Advice will assist with family law, housing, employment, expungement, insurance, SSI, tax, elder law cases.

Career Training
Career training programs provide job seekers with the skills and knowledge required for in-demand careers. Each program is custom designed to meet the needs of employers and give job seekers a competitive edge. Trainees participate in comprehensive job skills training, where they are eligible to receive nationally recognized certification. At the completion of training, graduates receive job placement support, many of whom are placed in successful careers within our network of competitive employers.

Our mission is to reduce Maryland's recidivism rate by providing the support and direction needed to obtain vital services post-incarceration. Individualized case management is the hallmark of our work. Maryland Reentry Resource Center helps those currently and previously impacted by incarceration to successfully regain entry to their communities by assisting participants with alleviating barriers to a successful reentry. This road to reentry is different for everyone. Reentry transition plans may include steps for family reunification, health, and wellness, including mental health needs, substance abuse and addiction treatment, stable housing, transportation, reading and writing services, financial training, continuing education and sustainable employment. Our approach is holistic and multi-faceted. Case managers assess the needs of each client and their families; that information is then used to coordinate services, monitor, and evaluate success and advocate where there are gaps in support coverage.

The Turn About Program provides transitional services to women leaving prison on parole. Women with a substance abuse history enter a 28-day drug abuse program at Tuerk House upon their entrance into TAP, and then continue after-care treatment for another six months. Our TAP clients report to ADI at least three times a week for individual and group counseling, and depending on their personal situations, the women attend GED classes, and parenting and stress management classes. The initial months in the program emphasize recovery, rather than employment. However, the women also attend job development and computer classes throughout their involvement in our program.

<http://alternativedirectionsinc.org/programs.html>

Shelter - Homeless Assistance

Our mission is to help rebuild lives with compassion by providing shelter and services to prevent homelessness and empower people as they transition toward self-sufficiency. The average length of stay is 90 days for individuals and six months for families, with the possibility of extensions. The program incorporates substance abuse and mental health treatment with ancillary interventions, i.e. nursing education, psychiatric consultation/evaluation, medication monitoring, case management and job readiness training, etc. The program experience is designed to empower clients to make choices that will allow them to live safely and independently.

Five Case Managers with diverse backgrounds in counseling, mental health and case management work closely with the clients along with an Addictions Counselor, a Program Coordinator who manages the day-to-day program routine and Resident Assistants who work in shifts to cover the round-the-clock services. Other professional outside service providers are also provided as part of the Light House multidisciplinary team.
