Citizenship - Community Development

Our walk-in resource center, located at 841 Broad Street in Providence, accepts drop-in visits from any formerly incarcerated person. We maintain an up-to-date and comprehensive file of resources in major life areas such as housing, employment, education, medical, mental health, substance abuse, and transportation. Clients can use our telephone or computer lab to communicate with employers, family members, and probation or parole officers. Our resource center has a full schedule of programming, ranging from job readiness to financial literacy to support groups. We can also serve as a temporary address. Check the monthly calendar for more info.

The OpenDoors reentry program uses a holistic approach to support offenders as they prepare to leave prison, return home, and stabilize in the community. The agency's programs include discharge planning within Men's Minimum Security, policy and advocacy on criminal justice issues, our one-stop Resource Center, and our Employment Program. OpenDoors programs seek to ameliorate the condition of the poor and promote economic self-sufficiency by improving job-readiness, addressing barriers to employment, and teaching job-retention skills.

Employment - Job Training

People come to us for multiple reasons. Someone in need of food may also be unemployed. Someone with a mental health concern may also be at risk for homelessness. Someone with children may feel overwhelmed. Problems like these can affect any of us at some point in our lives. Our array of services and supports are linked together so people can access help for their unique situations. Our goal is to help people become healthier, more self-reliant and better informed to meet their economic, social and emotional challenges. Employment and Training Center
